DETAILED ACTION

This Action is in response to the communication filed on 12/22/2010.

The amendment filed 12/22/2010 is acknowledged and has been entered.

Claims 1-10, 15-33, 37-58 and 63-66 are currently pending in the application and are addressed herein.

Election/Restrictions

Newly submitted claims 65 and 66 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: Claims 1-10, 15-33, 37-58 and 63-64 are drawn to nucleotide derivative compounds of a specific formula (e.g., see claim 24) as well as oligonucleotide derivatives comprising said nucleotide derivative compound and compositions comprising said oligonucleotide derivative, a process for preparing the compound, a process for preparing the oligonucleotide derivative, and processes of using the oligonucleotide derivative wherein the elected nucleotide derivative has the building block of formula(I) wherein radical "A" is of the type $-C(H)-(R_3)-N(R_1)(R_2)$, and wherein $n=0$, $R_1=H$, $R_2=H$, $R_3=H$, and $V=W$ =independently phosphodiester or phosphorothioate (e.g., see 4/3/2008 response). The compounds of claims 64 and 65 are not encompassed by the elected compound indicated above. Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 65, 66 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claims 1-10, 15-33, 37-58 and 63-64 are under consideration.

Art Unit: 1635

Claims 1-10, 15-33, 37-58 and 63-64 are directed to the following patentably distinct species: the different radicals nucleic acid bases of “B” represented by formulas (V2) to (V14) including the different variables for R_{b1} - R_{b5} (e.g., see claim 1). The species are independent or distinct because each sequence has a unique structure such that each sequence is different from the other sequences (i.e., they are mutually exclusive). In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (i.e., one specific radical nucleic acid base, including election of one of formula (V2)-(V14) and identification of the elected element for variables R_{b1} - R_{b5} , for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-10, 15-33, 37-58 and 63-64 are generic.

There is a search and/or examination burden for the patentably distinct species as set forth above because at least the following reason(s) apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Furthermore, since the species are mutually exclusive, the search for any particular species is not coextensive with the search required for the other species. In other words, a search for any particular species would not necessarily fully and completely cover the search required for the other species.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or a grouping of patentably indistinct species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species, or groupings of patentably indistinct species from which election is required, are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing them to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to J. E. ANGELL whose telephone number is (571)272-0756. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday 7:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.
